

Name: Anonymous

Date:

I Am Poem

I am like the sound of your favorite laugh
(Simile or Metaphor)

I wonder why it feels like I am small around big groups
(Simile)

I hear the screaming silence in the black pages of my journal
(Personification, simile, oxymora and metaphor to describe an imaginary sound)

I see something in nothings
(Oxymora, Paradox, and Simile, metaphor personification to describe)

I want to have pockets full of more love than money
(A desire you have or use any form of figurative language)

I am like the sound of your favorite laugh
(The first line of the poem repeated or simile or metaphor)

I pretend to have no fear
(Something you pretend to do or Metaphor, Simile, Oxymora, Paradox, Personification)

I feel alone in crowded rooms
(Metaphor, Simile, Oxymora, Paradox, Personification)

I touch the hearts of many

(An imaginary touch or Metaphor, Simile, Oxymora, Paradox, Personification)

I worry that my imagination is slowly growing old

(Personification)

I cry tears heavy with regret

(Something that makes you sad or Metaphor, Simile, Oxymora, Paradox, Personification)

I am like the sound of your favorite laugh

(The first line of the poem repeated or Metaphor, Simile, Oxymora, Paradox, Personification)

I understand sad happiness

(Oxymora)

I say life is like a box of chocolates

(Something you believe in or favorite quote)

I dream with open eyes

(Oxymora)

I try to push myself with hugs

(Paradox)

I hope for more love

(Something you hope for or any type of figurative language)

I am like the sound of your favorite laugh

(The first line of the poem repeated or type of figurative language)